Blueberry extract, acai berry, and red grapes work together to support tissue repair, enhance skin cell regeneration, and provide a powerhouse of vitamins, minerals, and antioxidants.

A blend of Coenzyme Q10 (CoQ10), Melon SOD, Astaxanthin Omega-3, -6, and -9 fatty acids nourish your body from the inside out, promoting cellular health, detoxification, and overall wellness.

APPLE STEM CELL

PhytoCellTec™ is a powdered formulation derived from cultivated apple fruit stem cells, created using innovative and sustainable in-house technology.

Clinical results indicate a significant positive impact on skin density and elasticity. As a result, PhytoCellTec™ is an ideal ingredient for beauty-from-within and anti-aging products in nutraceuticals, food supplements, and functional foods. Derived from the stem cells of rare Swiss apple varieties, such as Uttwiler Spätlauber, apple stem cells are renowned for their rejuvenating properties and their ability to promote cellular longevity.

RED GRAPES STEM CELL

PhytoCellTec™ Solar Vitis is a skincare ingredient derived from the stem cells of a rare grape cultivar. It works synergistically with UV filters to provide enhanced protection against UV radiation.

While traditional sunscreens help block UV rays, they cannot fully prevent skin damage caused by toxins and free radicals. PhytoCellTec™ Solar Vitis helps protect and maintain the health and function of epidermal stem cells, even under UV stress. This helps minimize skin aging and promotes a youthful appearance. Grape stem cells are extracted from the buds of grapes, known for their resilience and longevity in harsh environmental conditions.
